

Morning.

Mostly lower trade to start as news over the weekend was light. US precipitation was about expected with a boost to soil moisture across the Great Plains and much of the WCB. Argentina will see rain this week. Later today NOPA will update the industry with February crush and trade estimates are looking at a large daily crush rate. Taiwan is in for corn. China sold 2.3 million tons of wheat from auction. Today's action may follow outside markets. WTI was down 55 cents and USD up 16 points. US equities were mixed earlier this morning.

Corn

- Corn futures are mixed on lack of direction. China is expected to auction off corn this week, giving the trade an indication of current demand.
- We look for US export inspections for corn to increase over the next several weeks as imports shift away from soybeans.

Export developments.

- Taiwan's MFIG seeks up to 65,000 tons of corn, optional origin (NA or SA) on March 17 for May 27-June 15 shipment.

Soybeans

- The soybean complex is lower in part to less than expected speculative position (CFTC COT) in soybean and soybean oil, higher USD and lower WTI crude oil. Direction for a Monday morning is limited on light news and mixed offshore values. Malaysian palm was up again, for the 9th consecutive day, on tight supplies and long speculation.
- ITS reported March 1-15 Malaysian palm oil exports down 4.4 percent to 507,283 tons from 530,545 tons February 1 - 15, AmSpec also reported a drop in palm exports, by 4.6 percent to 517,725 tons.
- Rotterdam vegetable oil prices were up about 15 euros from this time Friday and meal mostly 2-4 euros lower.
- Offshore values are leading CBOT SBO 30 points lower and meal $0.80 short ton higher.
- China cash crush margins on our analysis were 182 cents, up from 178 cents late last week and compares to 168 cents year earlier.
